THE ANIMALS OBSERVATORY
WINTER SUNHAT

At the moment, there's an irresistible urge for mauve, a dominant shade in this season's collections. It's even harder to resist when this pale lilac is adopted by The Animals Observatory, the brand with a masterly use of bold, spot-on colour. This sunhat, a fashion accessory normally worn in summer, will, however, keep your children's heads warm this winter as it is lined with off-white, animal-friendly, fake fur. NIDI
HOLLY BOOKSHELF

This eye-catching bookcase by the Italian furniture brand Nidi, shown here in the shade Raperonzolo (aka Rapunzel), is perfect for keeping kids and teens' books and stuff within easy reach. Available in a wide range of colours, this environmentally-friendly, sustainable model that can be used in different configurations remains true to Nidi's values, mixing functionality and aesthetics with practicality and design.
